Why should the government allow free speech?

Free speech is important because you can say something without getting scared. With free speech, you can say, "I don't like you" or "I don't agree with you". Free speech lets us vote for who ever we want. If people can have free speech, they can pray who ever God they want. Free speech lets us write our thoughts in book, Tv, and newspapers.

Last year, our teachers gathered in Oklahoma City and asked the government for more money for school. Free speech makes people feel free and happy. That is why government should allow free speech.
