

I want to tell you something important. I think people should be driving safe in their car. You should drive the speed limit. You shouldn't drive that fast. The first reason you shouldn't go too fast is you can crash. Crashing can also probably hurt you really really bad. The second reason you shouldn't go so fast is because then you can run off the road and be stuck. The last reason is the police could catch you and give you a ticket. If you drive fast at top speed then you might go to jail. You shouldn't drive fast. You should drive at the speed limit.
