

We have a lot of freedoms as Americans, and we can use them to make a difference.

We are free to assemble, so we can group up to solve problems. For example, it used to be hard to leave our neighborhood because wide load trucks kept blocking traffic. People in my neighborhood worked together and petitioned the government. They changed the rules so the big trucks couldn't drive on that street anymore. Now we can leave our neighborhood easity!