

“Limitless” by Thalia Campos

This painting represents true American freedom by showing the choice between staying confined and pursuing growth and opportunity. The blue bird symbolizes self-sabotage, remaining in an open cage out of fear or comfort, while the red bird represents courage and the freedom to rise toward a better future.